Service Disruptions

In order to provide a safe and accessible environment, the ROM is committed to letting visitors know about services and features that are available to them. In the event of a service disruption at the ROM, we will immediately address the issue by:

- Notifying visitors through the Museum website.
- Updating the switchboard with notifications of the disruption
- Posting notifications regarding the disruption within the Museum.
- Ensuring notifications are appropriately located and visible to Museum visitors.
- Explaining the nature of the disruption and why the service is unavailable.
- Anticipating the duration of the disruption, and communicating this information to Museum visitors.
- Providing alternate facilities or services for the duration of the disruption.
