

Crystal Trailer

[Video opens with music and sketching noises; black lines appear and animate on the screen, forming Daniel Libeskind's paper napkin sketch of the Michael Lee-Chin Crystal; the sketch fades into an architectural rendering of the new building]

It began as a sketch on a napkin.

That sketched sparked a revolution.

And the Crystal Age was born.

Introducing the Michael Lee-Chin Crystal at the Royal Ontario Museum.

[Images of the ROM's collections, galleries, research work and programs appear in a collage, framed in sharp-angled sections resembling crystal shards]

With millions of artifacts, exceptional dining, unique shopping and stunning architecture, the amazement starts before you even step inside.
