

John Ruffolo

Mr. Ruffolo is the Chief Executive Officer of OMERS Ventures, the venture arm of OMERS, one of Canada's leading pension funds. OMERS Ventures is a multi-stage investor in growth-oriented, disruptive technology companies. In addition, he is also the Executive Managing Director with OMERS Platform Investments, the innovation investing arm of OMERS.

Mr. Ruffolo serves as the following:

- Hootsuite | Board Member
The most widely used social media management platform
- Desire2Learn (D2L) | Board Member
A global leader in EdTech
- Point North Capital | Investment Committee Member
Invests in equity and debt situations where it is able to influence operational, financial and strategic direction
- Purpose Investments Inc. | Board Member
Enabling all investors to have access to great investment products at reasonable fees
- Gain Energy | Chairman
Engages in the acquisition and management of properties in the oil and gas sector
- Ontario Centres of Excellence (OCE) | Board Member
Drives the development of Ontario's economy by helping create new jobs, products, services, technologies and businesses

Continued

- OneEleven | Board Member
A highly curated community of Canada's leading high-growth technology startups
- Council of Canadian Innovators (CCI) | Vice Chair
A non-profit organization dedicated to helping high-growth Canadian technology firms scale up globally
- Sustainable Development Technology Canada (SDTC) | Member Council Funds
Canadian cleantech projects and coaches the companies that lead them as they move their ground-breaking technologies to market

He is also the Vice-Chair of the David Suzuki Foundation and is a board member of the Royal Ontario Museum, Caldwell Partners "Top 40 Under 40" and League of Innovators. In addition John is a Dean's Advisory Council Member to the Schulich Business School as well a member of the Toronto chapter of the Young Presidents' Organization (YPO).

Prior to joining OMERS, Mr. Ruffolo was a Partner at Deloitte, as well as the Global Thought Leader, the Global Tax Leader and the Canadian Industry Leader for Deloitte's Technology, Media and Telecommunications (TMT) practice. He was also a member of the firm's Tax and TMT Global Leadership teams and a member of Deloitte's Board of Directors.

A chartered accountant, Mr. Ruffolo was formerly a partner with Arthur Andersen LLP and has also spent time as an instructor for both the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants and York University's Schulich School of Business, from which he holds a Bachelor of Business Administration.