ROM100 Speaks
Lecture Series kicks off with De-extinction Dialogues

Vanity Fair’s Bob Colacello in conversation

Discovery Corners are back!

Fall Programs, Workshops and Special Events
International experts and luminaries examine intriguing topics in a new speaker series combining the unique with the provocative. Pick your favourites, or attend all, and join us for a stimulating forum to experience, discover, and meet like-minded individuals.

De-extinction Dialogues
September 26
6:15 – 9 pm
$35, Members/Teachers/Students $32
Attend a free with admission pre-lecture performance of Sara Angelucci's A Mourning Chorus, then enjoy engaging talks with world experts that shed light on the demise - and legacy - of the passenger pigeon, declared extinct one hundred years ago.

The ROM's passenger pigeon collection is the largest in the world and features globally in research studies by many world experts. Featuring Joel Greenberg (Field Museum), and Ben Novak (The Long Now Foundation).

The Fashion Doctors
2014 Vaughan Lecture
November 12
7 – 9 pm
$80, Members $72
Experience the creation of a garment from start to finish with Dr. Timo Rissanen, Assistant Professor of Fashion Design and Sustainability at Parsons, The New School for Design and Dr. Alexandra Palmer, Nora E. Vaughan Fashion Costume Senior Curator and Chair of the Veronika Gervers Research Fellowship in Textile & Costume at the ROM. Followed by a wine reception with Drs. Rissanen and Palmer, The Fashion Doctors.

Extreme Museum Makeover
March 24, 2015
Visit our website soon for details.

Hear community, museum, arts and lifestyle trail blazers as they dish on their dream museum of the future. Includes post-panel reception and discussion.

Note: prices do not include HST.
