

TEACHER PROFESSIONAL LEARNING PROGRAMS

Meet your professional learning needs at the ROM! We offer customizable workshops for teachers, early childhood educators, adult educators, administrators, teacher candidates, additional qualifications course participants, and more.

A workshop can include the following:

- Guided tours led by experienced museum educators
- Hands-on workshops using authentic objects/specimens
- Use object-based primary source materials and inquiry-based teaching strategies
- Focus on a specific subject, strand, topics, and collections of interest to you
- Cross-curricular and interdisciplinary connections including Social Studies; Science and Technology; First Nations, Métis, and Inuit Studies; Canadian and World Studies; Social Sciences and the Humanities; Geography; History; The Arts; English; and Language

INDIGENOUS PROFESSIONAL LEARNING WORKSHOPS

Build your organization's capacity to understand the truth of Canadian history and work towards reconciliation. The ROM is a provincial and cross-sector resource offering customized Indigenous professional learning workshops to help participants meet the Truth and Reconciliation Commission's Calls to Action.

A workshop can include the following topics:

- Colonial history
- Respectful terminology
- Stereotypes/biases
- Appreciation vs. appropriation
- Historical and contemporary contributions
- The process of allyship
- Truth and Reconciliation Commission's Calls to Action

Professional Learning Programs are available for either half-day (2 hours) or full-day (4 hours)
